This image shows a blank, lined notebook page. At the top, there is a header section containing a grid of days from January 31 to March 13. The days are color-coded: Saturday (S) is grey, Sunday (S) is light blue, Monday (M) is dark grey, Tuesday (T) is light blue, Wednesday (W) is white, Thursday (F) is light blue, and Friday (F) is white. Below this header is a thick grey horizontal line. The main body of the page is white with light grey horizontal and vertical grid lines. A large rectangular area, approximately from x=0 to x=650 and y=350 to y=550, is filled with a solid blue color.

This image shows a blank, lined notebook page. At the top, there is a header row with dates from 14/03 to 24/04 and day abbreviations (S, M, T, W, T, F) for each day. Below this is a grid of 6 columns by 28 rows, intended for a monthly calendar. The first two columns of the grid are highlighted in blue, while the rest are grey. There are also several horizontal grey lines across the page, likely representing the lines of the notebook.
